Stone, Staffs.

14th July, 1936.

My dear Josiah,

I enclose my own answers to your questions which I think are truthful and I hope candid. As to my uncle and my father I cannot attempt to fill up papers for them. To many of the questions I should not know what answers to give and I do not think that for the purpose of your catechism anything that I could say would be of any use.

I hope that you are recovering well from your illness.

My dear Josh,

I really cannot write a notice about myself.
Do with your material, therefore, what you like.
I return your typescript.
